DEATH OF NATHANIEL PARKER WILLIS.

The graceful poet, the sprightly letter-writer and sparkling essayist, N. P. WILLIS, whose name is familiar as a household word in polite society in America and Europe, is no more. He died on Sunday, January 20th, his sixtieth birthday, a victim of consumption, at his beautiful residence, "Idlewild," on the banks of the Hudson river. Although of late years, enfeebled by the incurable malady to which he has fallen a victim, Mr. WILLIS has not been prominently before the public, there is hardly any American author who has achieved a more splendid reputation or more completely won the hearts of the reading public, young and old, of both sexes. Mr. WILLIS was a graceful word-painter in either prose or verse. Without affecting the moralist or philosopher, his sketches of life and travel and adventure were always brilliant and charming. His style was graceful, natural, and social. His publications were always eagerly sought, and his books found a favorite place in almost every collection. We copy from the New York Times the following biographical sketch:

Nathaniel P. Willis was born in Portland, Me., January 20, 1807. His father and grandfather were publishers, the latter having been an apprentice in the office with Benjamin Franklin, and a member of the famous Boston tea-party. His father was one of the founders of the Boston Recorder, the first firmly established religious newspaper in the country. Nathaniel the third (both father and grandfather bore the same name) received the rudiments of education at the Boston Latin school and the Phillips academy at Andover, and went thence to Yale college, where he graduated at the age of twenty. During his college life he followed the fashion of the day and wrote verses for newspapers and magazines, college exercises, etc., many of which were of more than ordinary excellence. The success which brought him into literary life was getting a prize of $50 offered by the publishers of the Album, an illustrated annual. Soon after leaving college, Mr. Willis was employed by G. S. Goodrich (the well known "Peter Parley") to edit certain volumes published under the title of "The Legendary," and also to have supervision of the Token. About 1828 he started the American Monthly Magazine, which he conducted for two years, and then merged it in the New York Mirror, a weekly literary journal, established in 1823 by George P. Morris and Samuel Woodworth, the author of "The Old Oaken Bucket." Mr. Willis soon after went to Europe, where he wrote "Pencillings by the Way" for his paper—a series of pleasant sketches that were very popular at the time. At Paris our minister, William C. Rives, gave Mr. Willis a place in his diplomatic family, and he was thus enabled to secure the entree to the highest society of all the cities he had the opportunity of visiting—a circumstance that was seldom forgotten in his letters. He traveled considerably in France, Italy, Greece and Turkey, and returned to England, where he married (in 1835) Mary Leighton Stace, daughter of Commissary Gen. Stace, in command of the royal arsenal, at Woolwich. In the same year he published in book form his pencillings by the way, and the English critics—following their natural inclinations—cut him up as severely as they could, accusing him of too much freedom in personal sketches, and other offenses so quickly seen in the writings of Americans. Among other free speakings, he said something of the novels of Capt. Marryatt which stirred the wrath of that redoubtable navigator, and Mr. Willis felt called upon to challenge the bold Briton. There was a hostile meeting at Chatham, but no blood was spilt. About this time he published in London Inklings of Adventure, and some other volumes, both there and here, which proved popular and lucrative. In 1837 he returned and purchased a retreat on the Susquehanna river, near Oswego, N. Y., which he christened, Glen Mary, (after his wife), and from which he sent to the printers now and then some pleasant letters. But his hobby was agriculture, in which he did as all literary farmers do—waste money, and was compelled to return to legitimate occupations. It was at Glen Mary that his daughter Imogene was born. In 1839, in company with Wm. T. Porter, he started a very handsome and (during its brief life) brilliantly written weekly paper named the Corsair. During that or the next year he went again to England, where (according to Griswold) he engaged Thackeray, who was comparatively unknown, to write for his paper. About this time Mr. Willis published in England "Letters from under a Bridge," written while he lived at Glen Mary; "Loiterings of Travel," a variety of short stories, and two dramas: "Tortesa the Usurer," and "Bianca Visconti," which he presented in one cover, and called by the unpoetic title of "Two Ways of Dying for a Husband." During these years he had accumulated a great number of poems, which he now revised and issued in a single volume. He also wrote the letter-press for a series of "Views in the United States and Canada," published by Bartlett. On his return to New York he found the Corsair cast away on the reefs of bankruptcy, and, with fortunate instinct, re-established business with his former partner and true friend, Gen. Morris. The product was a neat daily, called the Evening Mirror. Here he worked with unflagging zeal, but the exactions of the position were more than he could endure, and the death of his wife, which happened soon after, quite overcame him, and he returned to Europe, where, in England and Germany, he was for a long time an invalid, suffering particularly from brain fever. He was affectionately comforted by his former literary partner, Theodore S. Fay, and by Henry Wheaton, our minister to Prussia, who attached him to his legation. His health, however, was poor at the best, and he soon returned with his daughter to this country. While abroad he published in London "Dashes at Life with a Free Pencil." In 1845, in New York, he published the first collected edition of his works in one large volume; and during that year he married Cornelia, (the only daughter of Hon. Joseph Grinnell, of New Bedford, Mass.,) by whom he had a son and two daughters. Soon after his marriage he and Gen. Morris established the well-known weekly, the Home Journal, which still flourishes, and upon which devolves the sad duty of presenting more in detail and with more personal knowledge the biography of its oldest and most brilliant writer. We have only to say that not long after his second marriage he selected for his home the pleasant Idlewild, where his latest labors and his death have made the place memorable.

The Baltimore Sun furnished the following statistics: The trade between Baltimore and the southern states during the past year, by water, has been of a gratifying character. The receipts of cotton during the year ending December 31 were 28,683 bales of which 9027 bales came from Norfolk, 9498 from Savannah, 4968 from Charleston, 2443 from Wilmington and other North Carolina ports, 779 from Apalachicola, 924 from New Orleans, 364 from Richmond, 383 from Mobile, and 207 from Galveston. Of tobacco the receipts were 31,701 packages, 2949 hogsheads, 506 boxes, and 263 cases, principally from Richmond, Petersburg and other Virginia ports. The receipts of wool during the year were 2834 bags, while the amount of flaxseed brought to market from the south foots up 3364 barrels. The receipts of naval stores from North Carolina were 28,622 barrels rosin, 4265 barrels tar, 2485 barrels turpentine, and 2713 barrels pitch. Besides the above, there have been very heavy receipts of lumber, shingles, old iron, and hundreds of other small articles.

GROVER & BAKER'S
CELEBRATED
Elastic Stitch and Lock Stitch

SEWING MACHINES!

Why Grover & Baker's Machine is Best

1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to derangement than others.
2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no re-winding of thread is necessary.
3. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most delicate and the heaviest, and with all kinds of thread, silk, cotton or linen.
4. Its seam is so strong and elastic that it never breaks, even on the bias.
5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.
6. Its seam, though cut at every sixth stitch, remains firm, and neither runs or ravels in its wear.
7. Its seam is more plump and beautiful, and retains its plumpness after washing better than any other.
8. Its seam can be removed in altering garments, after proper inspection, without picking or cutting them.
9. Watching and varying the tensions upon the threads, necessary in other machines, is unnecessary in this. The tension being once adjusted on the Grover & Baker Machine, any amount of sewing may be done without change.
10. It makes beautiful embroidery without any change or arrangement, simply by inserting threads of suitable sizes and colors for this purpose. It is the only machine that both embroiders and sews perfectly.

The attention of Tailors, Manufacturers of Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Carriage Trimmers and all others requiring the best and most effective Lock-stitch Machines, is invited to our new Shuttle Machine, especially adapted to Manufacturing purposes.

LIBERAL CASH ADVANCES MADE ON Cotton and other Produce consigned to me. BAGGING, ROPE AND OTHER SUPPLIES furnished at the lowest market prices. All consignments of Cotton insured unless otherwise instructed.

The disastrous results of the late war having forced me to dispose of most of my property, I have concluded to undertake this business, here in the midst of my old friends, for the purpose of making an honest living for myself and family by my own labor, and to retrieve, as far as it may be possible, the losses entailed by the late war. To my old friends, and to all who may feel disposed to give me their business, I pledge my personal attention to its efficient transaction. se22

Randolph Macon College, Va.,
In Full Operation.

THIS time-honored institution is once more in successful operation, with a FULL CORPS OF PROFESSORS. The chairs of the several schools are filled by able and experienced men. There are five literary and scientific schools, viz: Of Ancient Languages, Mathematics, Chemistry and Natural Philosophy, Moral Philosophy and Modern Languages. In addition to the above the board of trustees have established a school of Commercial Science, with the view of giving to the young men of the country a Business Education.

To graduates in all these schools, Diplomas are granted, and the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts are conferred upon students who accomplish a certain course. The high grade of scholarship formerly required is still maintained. We have a full Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus for the illustration of the subjects taught.

The location of the College is unsurpassed for health and geniality. It is situated midway between the mountains and the seaboard; and during a career of thirty-three years and with thousands of young men in attendance, there has never been a death arising from malaria or other local cause. We profess to educate young men not only morally and mentally but physically also.

Board is Sixteen Dollars per Month. Tuition from $40 to $90, according to the number of schools attended. $250 will cover expenses of board, tickets for three schools, matriculation and contingent fees for ten months.

Rooms in the College free of charge, but the student provides his own furniture, fuel and lights. Young men who are preparing for the ministry and those disabled by the late war who are unable to pay their tuition, will be allowed to attend any or all of the schools free of charge.

This College is situated near Boydton, the county seat of Mecklenburg county, Virginia.

Arrangements are made to transport students from Ridgway Depot, on the Raleigh and Weldon Railroad, whilst a conveyance leaves Roanoke station, on the Richmond and Danville railroad, on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and the Wolf Trap depot, on the same road, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

We solicit a liberal patronage from Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina, from the West, South and Southwest.

Students will be received at any time. The second term will commence on the 6th day of February next. Young men will be received and prepared for the College proper. For further particulars address the undersigned at Boydton, Mecklenburg county, Va.

THE FEVERISH STATE OF EUROPE.

Europe is at present in the wildest state of excitement, and a great political change is about to transpire on that continent. Both Russia and Austria are ready to pounce on Turkey and enact over the disgraceful partition of Poland in another quarter, but Western Europe will not this time tamely stand by and see the work done without a struggle. NAPOLEON is one of the most far-seeing statesmen of Europe, and his plan of raising the French army to nearly double its present status is very significant, and proves that he is preparing for a great struggle. Russia, too, is working. Her army is being reorganized and her paid spies are flooding the territories of the Ottoman Porte, sewing sedition among his Christian subjects in order to make them declare in favor of her authority. The great powers are watching each other like so many blood-hounds smelling a basket of meat, and the moment that one of them attempts to take a bite a general fight will ensue. The meat has to be eaten, and that shortly, or it will spoil, yet none of them dare touch it for fear of drawing on themselves the vengeance of the others. It is a feverish state of excitement that Europe is in at present. The volcano is moving, and may burst at any moment. Russia has been making some heavy strikes, and unless she is checked will over-awe Europe with her mighty prowess. If she but once plants her standard in Constantinople, her navy will threaten any port in the Mediterranean sea in case of a war, and with her adhesive policy of annexation, it will not be long before her influence would extend over the entire continent. In fact, the nations of Western Europe in the course of less than a hundred years, would only be permitted to exist by her authority. NAPOLEON sees this plainly, and say what we will of the crafty statesman, his policy is the only one that can save the freedom of Western Europe from the potent clasp of the Russian bear. England is no longer what she used to be. Signs of decay in her greatness have been visible, and are to be dated from her terrific contest with the first NAPOLEON. She will either have to follow when France leads or fall into the general crash which would occur if Russia gets the ascendency in Europe. Matters are coming to a crisis, and it will soon reach that point where Eastern and Western Europe, like two enemies who have met for a mortal conflict, will hug each other in a last deadly contest of arms, and the Old World will either emerge from the smoke of battle with free institutions, or the whole continent will be Russian. NAPOLEON the Great predicted this nearly fifty years ago, and the signs of the times would go to prove that he was as good in foretelling events as he was a commander of armies.

THE CAUSE OF IT.

The harm that the radical measures in congress have done the commerce of the country is incalculable. Failures have been heralded from one end of the land to the other, and that too after a season of most prosperous business activity. It is a well known fact that up to the sitting of the present congress prosperity was reigning everywhere from Maine to Texas, and from California to the Atlantic. Money was plenty, times were flourishing, and peace seemed to hover over the land with a bright prospect of making this again one of the happiest nations on the globe. How this has all vanished by the assembling of the rump congress is too well known to every one. Peace has left the land, the country is on the eve of a general bankruptcy, and the animosity which the good people of both sections had crushed, now stalks abroad with greater venom than ever. That too much legislation is a curse to any land is a maxim as old as the foundation of the first government, and no country ever felt its blasting influence worse than the United States at present. A pack of men have assembled at Washington whose only ambition is self-aggrandizement, even at the expense of the destruction of the liberties of their country. That they have brought us on the very brink of ruin the more conservative of their number acknowledge.

Mr. DODGE, of New York, (radical) in a speech in the house of representatives on the 21st inst., on Mr. STEVENS' reconstruction bill, "declared that New York could never have been carried at the last election if it had been understood that Mr. STEVENS' bill was to become the platform of the radical party; and he notified the house that the business interests of the country were already in a feverish, excited condition by reason of the extreme measures threatened, and warned gentlemen of the imminent danger of persisting in the course which some of them seemed inclined to adopt."

Yet, the words of warning which Mr. DODGE solemnly told his colleagues in the assembled congress have been met as lightly as an unaccustomed mariner would treat the signs that show themselves before the coming storm. The radicals seem to have but one end in view, and that is, which one of them can go farthest in crushing out the South. As the red-republicans have been a curse to Europe, so have the radicals been a blight to America. They have stopped at nothing, but following in the wake of the roundheads of England, they now hold the reins of government, and like a beggar on horseback, intend to ride it to the fiend. When will the great masses of the North learn to appreciate the situation of affairs and hurl these patricides into oblivion? Echo answers, "when?"

MANUFACTURING IN THE SOUTH.

The Baltimore Sun remarks that among the changes which are likely to result from the late conflict between the north and the south, those of a commercial and manufacturing character promise to be the most conspicuous. Before the war, the natural course of business was to send cotton from the south to the northern Atlantic cities for the purpose of being manufactured or reshipped to Europe, receiving in return such goods as the planting states consumed. Now the tendency is to localize the business of the south—to produce there, as far as possible, the manufactured goods required for home consumption. With the growth of manufactures of the south, the advantages of cheapness, resulting from having the raw product on the spot, will be realized, and eventually she may undersell others, and send her surplus direct to such foreign markets as are in need of them. As a symptom of this introversion of trade, it may be noted that between seventy and eighty cotton mills are now said to be in process of erection in the southern states, besides sundry woolen ones, all tending to the change in trade and business to which we have adverted. Nor is this tendency confined to the south solely, but seems to be actuating the people of the western states also. There, too, increased attention to manufacturing enterprises is manifested, promising changes in commercial affairs not anticipated ten years since. These have been expedited in the south by the conflict of arms, while in the west they are the result of views antagonistic to those entertained by the manufacturers of the Atlantic states.

The Holly Springs (Miss.) Reporter, of the 18th, complains that there has not been any rain in that neighborhood for six weeks, and that the roads are as dry and dusty as in mid-summer, whilst there is hardly any water left in the ponds and wells.

STATE ELECTIONS.

Considerable interest is already being manifested about the spring elections which are to take place in New England in the course of a few months. The election, which passed off during the months of last October and November, were probably the most exciting that have taken place in many years, and, though much interest is felt in the coming contest in New England, the democrats have but little hopes of carrying any of these states.

New Hampshire votes on the second Tuesday of March; Connecticut on the first Monday in April, and Rhode Island on the first Wednesday in April. New Hampshire elects a governor and other state officers and three members of congress, the present incumbents of all of which positions are republicans. At the governor's election in 1866, SMYTH, republican, received 35,137 votes, and SINCLAIR, democrat, 30,481—a republican majority of 4656. In 1865 the republican majority was 6127. For the approaching election of 1867, Gov. SMYTH declining, the republicans have nominated for that position Gen. WALTER HARRIMAN, a native of the state, who is about 50 years of age. He was a democrat at the time of the breaking out of the war, and entered the service in August, 1862, as colonel of the Eleventh New Hampshire regiment, and was promoted to the rank of brigadier-general. For the last two years he has been secretary of state of New Hampshire. As his opponent the democrats have nominated their candidate of last year, JOHN G. SINCLAIR, a well known and popular citizen of the state. In Connecticut, a governor and other state officers and four congressmen are to be chosen, the incumbents of all these positions being republicans. At the election for governor last year HAWLEY, republican, received 43,974 votes, and ENGLISH, democrat, 43,433—a republican majority of 541. In 1865 the republican majority was 11,035.

The republicans held their convention at New Haven last Thursday, and the democrats hold theirs at Hartford on February 6th. It is believed that the candidates for governor will be the same as last year—governor JOSEPH R. HAWLEY, republican, and JAS. E. ENGLISH, democrat. In Rhode Island no political movements are yet announced. The state elects a governor and other state officers, and two congressmen, the incumbents of these positions being all republicans. At the election for governor in 1866, Gen. BURNSIDE, republican, received 8197 votes and PIERCE, democrat, 2816, a republican majority of 5381. In 1865 the democrats made no nomination; and the republican candidate, SMITH, received 10,061 votes. Gen. BURNSIDE will probably be re-nominated for governor by the republicans.

The members of congress who have been trying to bribe the officers of the Indian bureau, should be impeached; BOUTWELL'S "judicial mind" should be exercised in their case; that little affair of ASHLEY'S might be looked into at the same time. The fifty thousand dollar case of the late Rhode Island senator it is too late to stir, and the general cheating of contractors and lobbyists may be deferred for examination until the next session.

THE TARIFF BILL IN THE SENATE.

The discussion of the bill reported from the senate finance committee as a substitute for the house bill of the last session has commenced. The senate appears to be disposed to give the subject the deliberate consideration which is due to it. The bill, as reported from the committee, is an advance toward a prohibition of imports which come in competition with domestic products or manufactures. Articles of luxury are also subjected to increased duties, of which none need complain, as they are consumed wholly by the opulent. But articles of prime necessity, which are of general consumption, are also burdened with higher duties, to an extent that will almost prohibit their introduction.

It is believed that the bill, in its present shape, will diminish the revenue from imports to the extent of one-half. But many of the articles thus burdened will be smuggled into the country, paying no duty. Under the present tariff smuggling is reduced to a system, under which any goods may be imported and delivered, without risk to the receiver, upon the payment of a moiety or less of the duty. The new bill will serve to increase the temptation to smuggling. Already, according to the report of the secretary of the treasury, there is an annual loss to the customs revenue of a hundred millions in gold, by violating and evasion of revenue laws. Thus, it is a financial law here, as it was in other countries, that "two and two do not always make four in the customs."

The imports of wool and woolens during the present year amounted to sixty-seven millions of dollars, paying into the treasury half that sum in gold duties, and burdening the consumers, not only with the duties, but with profits, interest, etc., to an extent of fifty per cent. more. Now the duties on both wool and woolens are to be increased, and the country must go without woolen goods or pay enormous prices for the scant supply which it may receive from the almost extinct woolen factories of this country. A scant supply will it be at the best, for the domestic woolen manufacturers run only on satinets, cassimeres, carpets, and a few other articles. That is the reason why such an immense importation of woolen goods has heretofore taken place. The domestic manufacturers cannot make, and do not make, the goods that the people want.

There is a serious hitch in the combination of the wool-growers and the woolen manufacturers to raise the duties on imported wool and woolens to the prohibitory point. The wool-growers are said to be content with the proposed protection, but the manufacturers reject the provision made for them, and will insist upon the house bill of the last session, so far as their interests are concerned.

Their manufacture cannot be sustained, as they admit, unless they have the home market exclusively for woolen goods as the country needs.—National Intelligencer.

Death of a Veteran.

Capt. John B. Nevitt died about three o'clock last Sunday morning, after a long and troubled life. He was eighty-four years of age; was a midshipman in the navy in the scenes before Tripoli; commanded a gunboat in the affairs around New Orleans in 1812; was a planter and an active politician in this county for the last forty or fifty years; lived through the horrors of the late war, and now has gone to rest, having filled up more than the measure of days, and participated in more than the usual number of fatigues, pleasures, losses, gains and sorrows incident to human life. He was one of the very few persons left who helped to build up and support the govermental fabric which has been so rudely shaken and is being so rapidly destroyed. The aspect of politics and the condition of society are such as he never expected to see, and this was no longer a place for him to linger with any pleasure. Even the face of nature, which never changes, had become dim and somewhat blurred to him. He "rose up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of music were brought low." But "the pitcher has been broken at the fountain, and the wheel broken at the cistern." The old man has gone to his long home, and we, young and old, must follow him. There is no discharge in this war of life. It will be well if each of us can leave the records of deeds of charity as munificent as those performed by John B. Nevitt.—Natchez Democrat.

The Sugar Plantations of Louisiana.

Sugar plantations are in the market now at unusually cheap rates. One, situated about fifty-eight miles above New Orleans, containing thirteen hundred and fifty-nine arpents, with fine, commodious dwelling house, built of brick, and improvements, an extensive brick sugar house with machinery complete, cabins for eighty laborers, was lately sold for $32,800. Terms, one-fourth cash; balance in one, two and three years. This estate made in 1859, an average season, two hundred and fifty hogsheads of sugar. Before the war, this plantation with the negroes attached, was valued at $150,000. It is not an extreme case. A New Orleans paper says that it will require about twenty-five millions of dollars in the way of loans to replace the losses sustained by the sugar planting interest of Louisiana and to place the several hundred plantations in good working condition. Even then the scarcity of labor will present serious discouragements.

Gen. Griffin, one of the superintendents of the freedmen's bureau, at Galveston, Texas, forbids any public demonstration over the reinterment of the remains of Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston. He is but one remove from a hyena. To forcibly prevent the public expression of an almost universally entertained respect and admiration is an approach to that malign and ghoul-like disposition which tears up the grave and rends the mouldering clay. Only creatures are guilty of such meanness—men would scorn it.—St. Louis Times.

The Force of Reputation.

Charles Dickens's "Mugby Junction," which is like the last rinsings of a teapot, has had a sale of a quarter of a million copies. There is truth in the old proverb: "When a man once gets his name up he may lie in bed till noon."—Cosmopolitan.

ATTEMPT AT WIFE-POISONING.

A Story of Illicit Love.

[From the New York Herald.]

The criminal in this case is Calvin M. Northrup, a lawyer of this city, who figured in the courts some years ago in a divorce suit with his former wife, now deceased, (a Miss Vedder), whose family reside in Schenectady, in this state. Prior to the death of Miss Vedder, Northrup became counsel in a divorce suit for a woman named Humphreys against her husband, which he succeeded in obtaining, and then brought his client to live with his family. The intimacy between client and counsel became so apparent that Mrs. Northrup became disgusted and made her parents acquainted with the facts, who instituted proceedings in the supreme court of this state against Northrup, on the ground of adultery. Pending the suit the wife died, and Northrup, within a few months after her death, made the acquaintance of Miss Eliza White, and by professions of a religious education and sincere attachment, won the heart and hand of the victim of his cruelty.

A brief narrative of the evidence, as developed on the trial last week, at Bedford, Westchester county, before Hon. Judge Gilbert, is as follows: Northrup married Miss White in the month of July, 1864, something less than five months after the decease of his first wife, and proceeded on their wedding tour to Saratoga, where he introduced Miss Humphreys to his wife as a young lady of great respectability and possessed of a large fortune, and for whom he was transacting large law business. His wife received Miss Humphreys as a friend, and invited her to call on her at New York, where they lived together at various places, at the Bancroft house, Fifty-fourth street and Twenty-fourth street, when Mrs. Northrup discovered an intimacy between her husband and Miss Humphreys, which caused her to separate from him and reside with her parents in Brooklyn. Northrup, on this separation, became penitent, and requested his wife to return, and promised that he would purchase a house for her in Morrisania for $1,500. Both took possession of the house in April, 1865, when Mrs. Northrup was delivered of a child. After the birth of the child, Northrup brought Bourbon whisky to the house, and endeavored to make his wife drink it. She drank at his request twice, and found that the whisky did not agree with her, and refused to drink any more. Six days after her confinement he urged her to drink half a tumbler of what he called "Plantation Bitters;" she drank about half the quantity urged on her, when she suffered severe pains. About two weeks after, when Mrs. Northrup had recovered strength, she was invited by her husband to go down stairs to breakfast. She did so, and found a cup of coffee poured out for her, which he informed her was prepared by himself. She drank the coffee and returned to her room, when she was seized with the same feelings as when she drank the plantation bitters, but much more intense, and she fell into a profound stupor which quite exhausted her, and in the presence of her servant suffered intense agony. Northrup, after administering the coffee, went to New York, and returned earlier in the evening than usual and administered a powerful dose of morphine, which relieved her considerably. Two weeks further on, the girl, Susan O'Hara, by the direction of Northrup, took to Mrs. Northrup a bowl of tea, which she drank and shortly after fell into a stupor, which did not pass off for five hours, when she called for a doctor, but Northrup refused to go for one. The doctor called about noon next day, and found the patient suffering under all the symptoms of poison. He told his patient that she was suffering from the effects of belladonna. Northrup shortly after presented his victim with another cup of coffee, which she did not drink, but preserved for Dr. Horton, who gave it to his dog, which, after drinking it, presented all the symptoms of having been poisoned. Mrs. Northrup then procured a key which opened the trunk of her would-be murderer, and there found a vial half full of a liquid. The vial was taken to the doctor, who pronounced it to be tincture of belladonna. The doctor removed the contents of the vial into a vial of his own, and refilled it with the same colored liquid as before, and replaced it in the trunk of Northrup. A few mornings after Mrs. Northrup entered her kitchen, when she saw her husband emptying the contents of a bottle into a cup of coffee filled out for her, and he then went to New York. Mrs. Northrup gave the coffee to her dog, which was afterwards seized with the same symptoms as the doctor's dog. In July after Mrs. Northrup rejoined her step-father, John Taylor, a well known member of the Methodist church of Brooklyn. Mr. Taylor put the matter in the hands of Chauncy Shaffer, who consulted Dr. Joseph Heine, No. 54, East Eleventh street, on the effects of belladonna, and then put the matter in the hands of District Attorney McClellan, of Westchester county, who indicted Northrup for an attempt at poisoning. The case has excited more interest in Westchester county than any case within the memory of the oldest citizen. The courthouse and courtyard were crowded during the progress of the trial. Prof. Doremus and Budd, Dr. Horton and other eminent physicians were examined. The prosecution was conducted by S. Bates, the present district attorney of Westchester county, and Chauncey Shaffer. The defence was conducted by Robert Cochran and Levi S. Chatfield. The case was submitted to the jury at 4 o'clock on Friday morning, and at five they brought in a verdict of guilty. The prisoner was remanded for sentence to the first Monday of February next. The next penalty is imprisonment in the state prison for a term of not less than ten years.

CONJUGAL TROUBLES.

A clergyman living not one thousand miles from Proctorville, Vt., having attended a watch-meeting, returned to his home about one o'clock on New Year's morning, and found a team hitched in front of his door and a couple in his house. The object of their visit was soon made known by the young man, who informed the clergyman that he wished to be married to the young lady who was in the other room arranging her toilet. The rest of the story is thus told by the Rutland Herald:

The clergyman suggested that it was an unseasonable hour for a wedding, and proposed that they postpone the nuptial ceremony till the next day. In reply to this, the young man said that they were not intending to be married until the next day, but had concluded the evening previous to take a trip to his home in Jeffrey, N. H., and were going down to Winchendon on the night train. The story was so plausible that the clergyman married them. They left and went to the hotel in the village, where they spent the remainder of the night. In the morning they went to the depot to take the train for Ludlow, neglecting to pay their bill at the hotel, or for their team hired at the liverystable.

The landlord followed them and demanded his bill of the bridegroom, which he paid. The liverystable keeper also went and presented his bill of three dollars for the use of the team. The bill was also paid, and the man returned to his stable, and discovered that the whip he had furnished the young couple was missing. He went back immediately to the depot, and demanded pay for the lost whip, which the happy bridegroom handed over. On returning to the stable he found the runners of the sleigh were broken, and fearing the train might leave before he could reach the spot, hastened thither and presented a bill for the third time to the happy but unlucky man, who paid five dollars for the damage done to the runners of the sleigh.

The cars soon arrived and took the young couple to Ludlow, and the liverystable keeper returned to his stable. On examining his sleigh more critically he found that the beams of the sleigh were also broken. Hitching up a team he soon started for Ludlow and found the young bridegroom, and for the fourth time presented a bill, which was this time canceled with a five dollar greenback. Nothing more occurred to mar the pleasure of their honeymoon till the up train arrived at Ludlow, when off stepped a young man in search of the runaway couple.

This man had a bill to present to the young bridegroom, who had proved his rival in this love affair, the facts of which were that the two young gentlemen then confronting each other had both been courting the same girl; but lover No. 1 (who had just arrived on the train in search of the fugitives), got the girl to promise to marry him, and after they had appointed the wedding day, invited lover No. 2 to attend the festivities. The invited lover stole a march on his rival, and, on the evening alluded to, procured a team and went to see the lady, when after a few minutes' conversation, they agreed to proceed to the minister's residence as above, and become "twain of one flesh."

The truant girl, however, did not fail to array herself in the marriage garments furnished by lover No. 1, who, when learning of the proceedings, was greatly incensed thereat, and upon meeting his rival at Ludlow, claimed that the naughty girl had promised to marry him, and that he had bought the nice clothes that she had on her at that time—her wedding suit. The bridegroom remonstrated with the rejected lover, whose indignation would be quieted with nothing short of full payment for the nice clothes that he had furnished the treacherous girl.

But here the bridegroom was in a bad situation; such inroads had been made upon his financial resources that his last bill (the unkindest cut of all) oversized them, and he was unable to pay it, how much soever he might have desired to. But his relentless opponent was uncompromising in his demands, and nothing short of all the bridegroom's money and watch would satisfy his wounded heart and depleted pocket book.

At last the bridegroom yielded to these stern demands, and gave up his watch and last dollar, and doubtless feels rich in the possession of one who has forsaken another and agreed to cling to him alone through life.

Plantation for Rent.

THE fine Cotton Plantation, situated in Tunica county, Mis., four miles from Moon Lake and ten from Helena; eight hundred acres open, six hundred of which were cultivated the past year. The whole place is finely improved, has dwelling house with five rooms, excellent cabins, sufficient to accommodate sixty hands, and a fine ginhouse, together with stables and corncribs. Fine blue and Bermuda grass lots on the place. Mules, corn, fodder and farming implements will be sold on reasonable terms to the party renting. I would prefer giving a man who has some capital and who can furnish the balance of the hands required, and who can give his personal attention to the management of the place, an interest as a partner, my business rendering it impossible for me to give my personal attention to it. For terms and further information address E. M. Apperson & Co. and W. H. D. Wendel, with Messrs. Wm. Hill & Co., Memphis, Tenn. and David & Henderson, Moon Lake. Parties wishing to see the place will get off at the Pass.

THE JEFFERSONIAN DEBATING SOCIETY.—The people of Memphis are probably unacquainted with the fact that there is a well organized debating society in their midst. This institution was created by a combination of some of the most intelligent and promising young men of the city in the great enterprise of mental development, and bids fair to be not only a potential assistant to those purposing to adopt a professional character, but also the means of uniting in a bond of friendship those who will need each other's encouragement and assistance in after years in fighting the great battle of life. United to this will be the benefit accruing from the fund of information afforded by an organization of this kind. If you wish to become an orator, or a good conversationalist, so that you may express yourself with grace, elegance and force, there is no other way more accessible or more certain of accomplishing the desired result than is now presented by becoming a member of this society. With a majority of the members we are personally acquainted, and know them to be affable, courteous gentlemen. The names of the officers are as follows: Lawrence Spicer, president; John R. Beasley, vice-president; Fred. R. Brenan, recording secretary; R. D. Wallace, financial secretary; F. O. Guthery, librarian. Their place of meeting is the criminal courtroom.

SAD ACCIDENT.—On Saturday afternoon Byron Brooks, a youth attached to this office, was in company with some other lads on Court street, when, by accident, he fell with his left arm under, breaking the bone in two places. A physician was immediately called in, who set the broken limb, and the patient is doing nicely.

ASTRAY.—A little boy, who gives his name as James Kane, was picked up on the street yesterday by the police. He is about six years of age, fair complexion, slightly pox-marked, has on grey pants, shepherds' plaid coat, gray felt hat, shoes and stockings. His parents can find him at the policestation.

THREATENING TO KILL.—Complaint was made yesterday at the Adams street police station that a man named James Ravell had threatened to kill Mr. E. Johnson, who resides at 91 Poplar street. The party was promptly arrested by officer McMahon and brought before Justice Creighton, who, on hearing the testimony, bound Mr. Ravell over in the sum of $500 to keep the peace toward the said E. Johnson and all other good citizens of the state of Tennessee.

POLICE BUSINESS.—Eighty-one cases were presented yesterday on the police docket for the consideration of the commissioner. About $500 in fines were assessed and but a small portion of the amount paid in. There was the usual amount of Monday morning drunks, three victims for selling the ardent on Sunday, a few insignificant fights and some cases turned over to the state, less thieves than usual 'being reported.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—The attractive drama entitled Temptation was presented last night to a full house, Vestvali playing "Phillip Beaufort." She was well supported by Messrs. Wheelock and Lanagan and other members of the clever stock company. To-night we are to have the great play of Deborah, in which Mlle. Elise Lund appears for the first time in this city.

BOUND OVER.—Barney Conners, an industrious drayman and a very peaceable citizen when sober, but very unruly and abusive when under the influence of tanglefoot, was making more noise than the law permits at the Poplar street market on Saturday evening. Officer Boughner advised him to be quiet and go home. Barney disputed the point, and dared an arrest, following the M. P. with a drawn knife, made an attempt to stab him and succeeded so far as to cut through the coat, a memorandum book that was in the breast pocket, and through the vest, and only inflicting a slight scratch on Boughner's right breast. The club of the M. P. was brought into requisition, other officers interfered and Barney taken care of, not, however, till his face had been pretty well marked. He was furnished quarters at the city boardinghouse till yesterday, when he was taken before 'Squire Harry S. Lee, who required a bond of $500 from Barney to preserve the peace, which we presume he will have no trouble in giving.

ONLY BORROWED.—Allan Nell, (colored,) borrowed a horse to have a ride a week ago Sunday from one of his own persuasion, Henry Robinson by name, who has a habitation and a home on Brown's avenue, and not having asked the owner permission for the loan of the animal as is usual in such cases. He also forgot to return the same. Henry, however, found the horse, and has been on the lookout for Allan ever since. He found the culprit yesterday morning, and procured a warrant from 'Squire Lee, who will investigate the matter this day at 2 p.m.

SUICIDE.—Two young men, names unknown, took passage on the steamer Mollie Hambleton for Wittsburg, to which point they paid their passage, but on the way they behaved so badly that the officers of the boat found it necessary to land them at Madison. Report says that they took across the country and confiscated several horses. The citizens started in pursuit and caught them near Jacksonport, and, as the story runs, the two unfortunate young men committed suicide. Further particulars may be looked for.

GONE AGAIN.—The room No. 112 Jackson block, occupied by Jas. Crookshank, was entered on Sunday night and property to the value of one hundred dollars stolen.

BRUTAL MURDER IN CHELSEA.
A Negro Shoots a White Man.
The Murderer and his Accomplice Arrested by an M. P.
Coroner's Inquest, etc., etc.

Again we are called upon to record one of those startling affairs that are becoming but all too common in our midst. On Saturday night, as Mr. Frank Murphy was going to his residence in Chelsea, accompanied by a friend, they met two negroes, named Joe White and Silas Payne, in the road, who jostled them very rudely. Some remonstrance was made by Murphy and his friend, to which the negroes responded very impertinently, when one of them named Joe White drew a pistol and fired, the ball taking effect in the groin. A cry was immediately raised for the police, when officer Welch, of the first district, (although not on duty,) gave chase and captured one of the negroes. Again returning to the pursuit, by dint of hard labor and the natural instinct with which a policeman is supposed to be endowed, he ferreted out criminal No. 2, and housed them safely in the Adams street prison. In the meanwhile Mr. Murphy was conveyed to his residence. Medical aid was obtained and everything done that human thought could suggest or skill of man accomplish, but with little hope of recovery. Thus matters remained until yesterday morning, when the prisoners were turned over to the state on a warrant issued by Mr. Justice Creighton and executed by Constable Chas. Martin, charging the above-named negroes with shooting with intent to kill. About an hour afterwards (say 9 o'clock) intelligence was received that poor Murphy had breathed his last, a victim to the willful, malicious criminality of a lawless negro. Coroner W. B. Cotton proceeded with all due speed to the premises and held an inquest on the body. The testimony being taken it was proven that this self-same murdering negro had been in a house near where the shooting took place. A short time before the fatal shot was fired he loaded his pistol and swore he would shoot the first white — he met, and fatally did he carry out his threat. The jury returned a verdict, finding that the deceased came to his death from the effects of a pistol shot at the hands of Joe White, and that Silas Payne was accessory to the fact. Coroner Cotton issued his warrant against the criminals for willful murder, and they will be brought before 'Squire Creighton this morning for examination on the charge of murder, when they will no doubt be fully committed for trial at the next sitting of the criminal court. We have stated the facts in this case as gathered from official sources. It is indeed high time that some decided and vigorous action was taken in reference to the numbers of miserable, loafing, lawless negroes that infest all large cities and towns, too lazy to work, willing to steal, rob, plunder, and even murder peaceable citizens for mere gratification. Scarcely a paper is issued in this whole country but what may be found recorded some deed of violence committed by this so much abused race—heaven save the mark! To their freedom, they have added stealing, to stealing burglary, to burglary arson, to arson willful and malicious murder, with crimes that are nameless. How long, oh justice, how long, will thy light burn dim in the land?

ST. PATRICK'S FAIR.—The fair for the benefit of St. Patrick's church, which has been going on for the past week, ended last night. It has been a complete success, having realized the handsome sum of nearly $50,000. The proceeds of the fair are to be used, as before stated, to erect a Catholic church in South Memphis, which, if the design is carried out, will be an ornament to Memphis that she may well be proud of. We heard doubts expressed as to the payment of some of the checks that were put in for the cane on Saturday night, but we understand they have all been cashed or accepted. To-night there will be a grand ball, and we doubt not those who attend will enjoy themselves well, for there has been an array of beauty seldom equaled attending the fair, most of whom will, of course, be at the ball.

INNOCENT PLAY.—Peter Mullin got up yesterday morning bent upon having some fun. After imbibing several cocktails, smashes, etc., he whipped two men. During his travels round the town he met with a traveling glazier, and proceeded very quietly to smash up the stock in trade of the itinerant setter of window panes. This was objected to on the part of the owner. Peter then gave him a couple of kicks, when officer F. Wright appeared on the scene and arrested him. He showed fight; the M. P. retaliated in kind. The consequence was, Peter went to Capt. Simonds's headquarters with a bruised head and a badly cut face, and when brought before the recorder was fined twenty-five dollars and costs.

STEAMBOAT THIEF.—While the steamer Mississippi was lying at the levee on Sunday morning, the stateroom of Mr. Hiram Skinner was entered by some adroit thief and $310 in currency, a fine gold watch and a pocketbook containing valuable papers, a pair of sleeve buttons and a five dollar gold coin taken from under his pillow. So quietly was it done that Mr. Skinner was not awakened, and the thief got off with his ill-gotten booty. Alderman Townsend found the pocket book and contents in a cask in front of his store during the day. The thief is still at large.

HORSE AND BUGGY.—Some person who did not want a horse without a carriage, took both from the front of a fashionable dry goods store, on Main street, yesterday evening, about five o'clock, where it had been left by Mrs. Block, who went in to make some purchases. A full description of the property has been lodged with the police.

GRAB GAME.—John Gilmour, yesterday, stole the pocketbook of Jas. Morrison, containing about $70 in money and some private papers. The parties were in a house together on DeSoto street, when Morrison took out his pocket book, Gilmour grabbed it, gave leg bail, and has not been heard of since.

RISTORI.—By reference to the advertisement in another column this morning it will be seen that the subscription book is open daily at the box office, until Thursday, when subscribers are requested to call for their tickets. The regular sale of tickets for any night commences Friday at 9 a.m.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

Common Law Court—The Contempt Case.—This case was resumed yesterday morning in the law courtroom. The defendant's counsel having admitted that this court has jurisdiction in the premises, the argument of the case was opened by Gen. John F. Sale, for Mayor Lofland, in a lengthy argument. The points which he attempted to prove was, that the answer of the mayor (Lofland) purged him from contempt, and that the board had authority under the city charter, to remove these officers without notice or cause. Mr. Sale was followed by Capt. Van Anderson, in an elaborate argument. The question in the case was, "Did the answers of Mayor Lofland to interrogations purge him from contempt?" to which query Capt. Anderson argued in the negative, maintaining that as Mr. Ford was elected for a year, there was no law by which he could be removed without cause and notice to appear and defend.

Mr. Gantt, upon the same side, with his usual zest and eloquence, sustained forcibly and strongly the position assumed by Mr. Anderson, claiming that Mayor Lofland had treated the process of the court most contemptuously, denying, as assumed by Mr. Sale, that the officer was removable at pleasure and without cause.

Col. Yerger closed with a long, eloquent and forcible argument, taking opposite ground to Messrs. Gantt and Anderson, endeavoring to sustain the position of Gen. Sale, and further argued that the mayor had purged himself as an individual from contempt, and that the mayor and aldermen were a body corporate and powerless, and therefore incapable of being brought into court bodily and punished.

The case occupied from 10 a.m. until 3½ p.m. Judge Thos. Smith had the case under consideration, and will render his decision shortly.

RIVER MATTERS.

Weather and Business.
Sunday was a clear, but cold day, with ice running past in large quantities. Yesterday was also clear and cold. Ice not quite as heavy as on the preceding day.

At St. Louis, on Sunday, the river was rising and clear of ice. The gorge at Hurricane is still reported unbroken. At Louisville the Ohio is falling, with less than 6 feet in the canal. It is also falling at Cincinnati. There is no change to report in the lower rivers.

Miscellaneous.
A correspondent of a St. Louis exchange gives some facts not generally known about the Bessemer steel boiler. It appears that there are four boats at St. Louis which are going to be fitted up with the new boilers. It is much more expensive than charcoal iron. He says:

The tempered strength of Bessemer steel, well hammered in the ingot, is generally allowed to be about thirty-five per cent greater than that of iron; therefore, boilers of Bessemer steel can safely be manufactured of plates one-third thinner than charcoal iron plates and subject to the same pressure. In fact, Bessemer steel should be safer, for being hammered and rolled out of one ingot, without pile or weld; it is infinitely more homogeneous. The risk of partial though unseen want of cohesion in lamellation, or blistering under the condition of unequal expansion and contraction, incident to plates rolled out of piled iron, does not attach to Bessemer metal, the sponginess incident to the newly cast ingot being overcome by heavy hammering previous to its being subjected to rolling. The point at issue is deeply important to the public welfare. All matters which have in view the cheapening of transportation necessarily are important. It is claimed that by using boilers of Bessemer metal, about thirty-three per cent. in fuel is saved; economizing not only the prime cost of the fuel, but additionally one-third the labor in firing, one-third the pro rata cost of wages of the whole crew while the vessel is detained in replenishing her fuel, and furthermore, enabling most steam vessels to take additional weight of cargo equivalent to the fuel economized or dispensed with. The weight of boiler, contents and appurtenances is no small item in this economic summary. There being 1026 steamers plying on the Mississippi and tributaries, averaging over three boilers each, a sufficient inducement exists for manufacturers to roll plates thirty feet long by eleven feet wide, forming the whole shell of the boiler, with but one seam between heads, and that one unexposed to the action of fire; also to draw nine-inch flues without seam or weld, infinitely reducing the tendency to scale.

The H. S. Turner, which loaded for St. Louis on Saturday last, and now due at this port, got $1 50 on flour; pork, $2 50; corn, 85c. per sack; oats, 75c. per cwt; mules, $15, and horses $18 per head. This is a paying rate.

The Democrat, of St. Louis, reports the Gov. Sharkey loaded to the guards with cotton, flour, etc., for the Arkansas river. We can't go that cotton, Ryland. Didn't you mean wool?

An honest and unsophisticated German, but who is a diligent searcher after truths, made the following pertinent inquiry of one of our river friends: "Vat ish dat leedle games when all der fellers sets round mit der dables, und tosses buttons on pasteboard carts mit figgers on em, und don't say somedings already, und den-bye-und-bye one fellers he says, 'Gend!' und den all dem udder fellers says, 'Oh, h—ll!'"

By a private dispatch, we learn that the Ohio at Cairo is again full of running ice—very heavy.

The Mohawk passed down yesterday. The Salvor No. 1 also went down. She will stop at the wreck of the Platte Valley.

The Agnes came in from White river with 26,000 feet of lumber and 36 bales of cotton.

The Commercial came out of White river with 395 bales of cotton. Milt. Harry, her obliging clerk, informs us that when the Commercial went in, the river was rising, but on the return trip it was falling.

The St. Patrick came in from Vicksburg yesterday morning with 200 bales of cotton and a good passenger trip.

The Lady came in from Osceola with about 100 bales of cotton, besides a large lot of wagons, bbls and furniture saved from the steamer St. Cloud. The Lady returns to-day.

Capt. Jas. T. Bourne, of the firm of Jas. T. Bourne & Co., the well known steamboat agents, returned on Sunday from a trip to Cincinnati. Capt. Bourne reports the ice at that point on Friday as being quite formidable.

The rivers above are, we may say, still closed. There is yet one heavy gorge between St. Louis and Cairo, and some of our exchanges report two. The Ohio is still, to all appearances, unnavigable. The Silver Moon, over two weeks out from Cincinnati, arrived on Sunday. She worked her way through a succession of gorges from Cincinnati to the mouth. The weather we now have is not calculated to open up the river. It thaws but little during the day, while the nights are quite cold.

The Tempest, Darling, B. L. Hodges No. 2 and David White were prohibited leaving Louisville yesterday by the board of underwriters.

Some of the St. Louis insurance offices took risks on Friday last.

The upper Mississippi river pilots have issued a protest against the erection of a railroad bridge above the steamboat landing at Quincy, as designed by the projectors of the scheme, and recommend a point below the public levee, where the bridge will not obstruct navigation. They also protest against a draw of only 160 feet in width.

A new boat is now lying at Jeffersonville named the Henry M. Shreve. She is intended for the mountain trade and will carry 200 tons on 3 feet water. The Shreve is 209 feet keel; is owned by W. R. Carter and others, of St. Louis; will be commanded by Capt. Campbell and is named after Capt. H. M. Shreve, who, in 1816, commanded the first double deck steamer that ever run upon western waters.

The Mollie Hambleton always arrives on time. She brought 433 bales of cotton, 1001 fish and a coon skin—we are looking at the latter while we write. Capt. Tom Day reports them plenty along the holy creek, which is rising. We are indebted to Mr. Shell for the following item: Two men who claimed to be from Southern Missouri went around on the Mollie last trip. They were rude and boisterous—so much so that they were put off the boat at Madison, although they had engaged passage for Wittsburg. After being put ashore they stole seven or eight horses in that vicinity. They were pursued by the owners of the missing horses and overtaken with the stock in their possession, near Jacksonport. Not wishing to return to Madison, they were permitted to commit suicide, which they did by hanging. We could not learn their names.

FINANCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, January 28, 1867.

The money market has not shown any material change since our last. A few of our houses show an increase of currency balances, but this is not sufficiently the case to cause much relief to the market which continues to retain its stringent features. Our banks confine their accommodations to customers, and though the demand for money is not so urgent there is yet more paper offered than can be discounted. The unsettled feeling in regard to the future keeps speculation in check. Gold has slightly advanced. Brokers buy at 33 to 33½c.

We learned of no large sales of silver. Buying at 23 to 25c, and selling at 27 to 28c.

There is an easier feeling in exchange, with better demand. Banks buy at ½ to ¼ off, and check at par to ¼ off.

The demand for city scrip is good, and brokers buy liberally at 75c. Selling at 78 to 80c.

County warrants are firm at 93 to 95c selling.

In uncurrent money there is but little demand for banks of any state; those of Tennesse, however, are firm at our quotations: Bank of Tennessee, 55c; Bank of Chattanooga, 15; Bank of West Tennessee, 45; Union Bank, 80; Planters' Bank, 80; Bank of Memphis, par; Bank of Middle Tennessee, 90; City Bank of Nashville, 50; Merchants' Bank, 75; Ocoee, 20; Bank of Shelbyville, 80; Traders' Bank, 50; Southern, 20.

BONDS.—State of Tennessee 6's, long loan, 92c; Memphis city bonds, with coupons for 1861, 70c; Interest coupons, 45c; Memphis and Charleston railroad bonds, 80c; Mobile and Ohio railroad bonds, 64c; Mississippi and Tennessee railroad bonds, 65c.

NEW YORK, January 28, 10 a.m.—Gold opened at 34¼.
11:15 a.m.—Cotton inactive, 33½ to 34c. Gold, 34¼. Exchange, 9¼.
12:30 p.m.—Cotton stiffer, but not quotably higher, 33½ to 34c. Gold, 34¼.
2:15 p.m.—Cotton more active, 33½ to 34½c; sales to day 1300 bales. Gold, 34¼.
4 p.m.—Gold closed at 34½.
LIVERPOOL, January 26.—Cotton unchanged; sales to-day 8000 bales; uplands, 14½d. 5-20s, 72½.
LIVERPOOL, January 28, noon.—Cotton firmer; sales 10,000 bales; uplands, 14½d. 5 20s, 72½.

The case of the state of Missouri vs. the state bank of Missouri, which is set for hearing before the general term of the circuit court, is one of some interest to three different parties: the state, the bank and Capt. Jas. B. Eads, each of whom is interested to the amount of $100,000 or more. The suit is instituted by the state to secure certain dividends declared by the bank on stock owned by the state and which was subsequently transferred to Capt. Eads. The dividends were declared after the stock had been advertised, and after the bids had been received, but before the sale was approved, and the point at issue is the date when the state's claim ceased, whether on the day at which the bidder delivered his proposition and became bound to pay a certain sum for the stock as it stood, despite any fluctuations, or on the day when the governor, as the representative of the state, made the actual transfer and received the purchase money. The case will be argued at St. Louis, by Attorney General Wingate for the state, and by F. C. Sharp, Esq., for defendant.

The following is the bill passed by the house providing for the public sale of gold after not less than six days notice. By the text of the bill it will be seen that compound interest notes are to be received, with the accrued interest added, in payment for the coin sold, an excellent provision for preventing monetary stringency arising from the sales:

Be it enacted, That after the passage of this act, whenever any sale shall be made of coin from the treasury of the United States, public notice of not less than six days shall be given by advertisement in one daily newspaper in each of the cities of Washington and New York, designating the amount to be offered, inviting proposals for any part thereof, naming the place and the hour up to which sealed proposals will be received, the terms of payment, and when and where such proposals shall be opened. Such proposals shall be offered to the assistant treasurer at New York, and shall be opened by him in the presence of such persons as may choose to attend, at the time designated in the notice, and no proposal shall be considered unless accompanied by a certificate of deposit in the treasury of the United States of five per centum, of the amount of coin bid for in such proposal, which shall be received as part pay for the coin bid for, when the proposal is accepted, and payments may be received for coin thus disposed of in compound interest notes, with the interest accrued thereon. The assistant secretary, with the approval of the secretary of the treasury, shall have the right to reject the whole or any part of such proposals, provided that none but the highest bid shall be accepted; and in case of different bids at the same rate, said bids shall be accepted pro rata.

A. J. Meyer & Co., brokers, of New York, have failed and their account at the Bank of North America is overdrawn to the amount of $219,000. The bank has a reserve of over $300,000 and the assets of the defaulting firm is reported, to be accessible, which would cover the losses to various parties by the failure. Meyer went there three years ago from Chicago, and his house has been of good repute. Its business being said to have reached $3,000,000 a week. John P. Yelverton, president of the bank named, died Thursday night of apoplexy. It seems on that day application was made to the paying teller to certify some checks of Meyer & Co., but as the amount was large, and there were no deposits of the firm in bank that officer declined to assume the responsibility. Mr. Yelverton was appealed to, and having the utmost confidence that deposits would be promptly made to meet the checks, certified them. The loss sustained by the bank so worked on Mr. Yelverton's mind as to occasion the sad event recorded. It is reported by Meyer's friends that he did not intend to defraud the bank, but was unable to meet his obligations in consequence of having sustained many heavy losses himself. It is barely possible a compromise can be effected, as persons in that city are understood to have large amounts in securities in their possession belonging to Meyer.

The Ætna and Phœnix fire insurance companies lose $75,000 each on the late Vicksburg fire, which will lessen the price of their stock.

Leonard Hyck, late president of the exploded Merchant's National Bank, has been committed to jail in default of bail in the sum of $5000 to answer to the indictment. Some few persons offered to become security, but were refused by the court.

COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, January 28, 1867, 8 p.m.

General Business.
Business was dull during the day, though the receipt of a large amount of miscellaneous freight, per Silver Moon from above, added considerably to the appearance of things on Front street. Meats of all kinds are more plentiful, but prices are firm. Corn is offered at lower rates than on Saturday, while hay has advanced to the fabulous price of $45 to $50 per ton from store, with none offered on the levee. Through boats bring nothing, we may say, for this market, and but one local packet from above has arrived during the past week. Bran and shorts are out of market, while oats, which is firm at our quotations, is very scarce. Our business men have deserted 'change. The life and activity with which it reopened did not last, and now it presents daily a very barren aspect. We, in common with the entire community, regret this state of affairs. It is not speaking well for the enterprise of our people and does not do justice to the energy and faithfulness of the very able secretary of the chamber, Capt. Freligh.

A New York paper published six months ago a summary of the amount of sales returned to the assessors of internal revenue by the leading dry goods auctioneers of that city, for the first six months of 1866, upon which a tax of one per cent. was paid to the government. They have now compiled a table giving a similar total for the last six months of the year, and have combined both returns, showing the entire sales of these houses for 1866. It is a very interesting exhibit, and will attract the attention of the trade. It will be seen that these eight firms have disposed of $35,544,614 of dry goods under the auctioneer's hammer.

BROWN & PERKINS'
Pianos for the People!
420 Broome St., New York.
WE would call the attention of the public to our elegant New Scale Pianos, in the following styles:
STYLE "A," 7 octave, Front large round corners, plain case, either octagon or carved legs, straight bottom, bead moulding on plinth $450
STYLE "B," 7 octave, same as style A, with serpentine moulding on plinth, carved legs and lyre 500
STYLE "C," 7 octave, Front corners large round, serpentine bottom, mouldings same as on style B, carved lyre and desk, fancy carved legs 550
STYLE "D," 7 octave, Four large round corners, finished back, mouldings on rim and plinth, serpentine bottom, carved lyre and desk, elegant carved fruit legs 600
The above styles are all finished in elegant Rosewood cases, and have the full iron frame, French action, harp pedal, beveled top, ivory keys and key fronts, and exceed in overstrung bass nearly all the 7¼ octave pianos now manufactured. They are made of the best materials, and for finish, durability, purity and sweetness of tone, cannot be surpassed.
The four styles described above, embody all the essential changes in exterior finish of case, which are by manufacturers run up to 15 and 20 patterns.
We invite the attention of the public, of dealers and the profession, to a critical examination of the merits of our Pianos.
By avoiding the great expense attendant upon costly factories and extensive warerooms in the city, we are enabled to offer these Pianos at prices which defy competition, and invite all to call and examine them before purchasing elsewhere.
When references and testimonials are required by those about to purchase, instead of presenting a display of professional names, we refer to the parties to whom we have sold our Pianos. Their judgment as to the real merits of our instruments as to their durability, touch, sweetness and power of tone, being of far more value than the mere good opinion of the artist, however capable, who merely tries in a wareroom, instruments in perfect tune and order, which have just received the workman's last finishing touches.
Our motto is, "Quick sales and small profits."
Send for a circular to BROWN & PERKINS,

Dissolution.
THE partnership heretofore existing under the style of GILBERT & HIGBEE is this day dissolved by mutual consent. The business of the late firm will be settled by H. H. HIGBEE, at 301 and 303 Main street.
SAMUEL GILBERT,
January 1, 1867. H. H. HIGBEE.

IMPORTANT CHANGE
REMOVAL.
MANSFIELD & HIGBEE
Successors to S. Mansfield & Co., and Gilbert & Higbee,
HAVE CONSOLIDATED THE TWO STORES as above, and removed the entire stock of Gilbert & Higbee to the large and commodious
DRUG WAREHOUSE
Of S. Mansfield & Co.,
Nos. 301 and 303 Main St.
Having this day disposed of my interest in the Drug Store of Gilbert & Higbee to MANSFIELD & HIGBEE, I most cordially recommend them to my friends, and earnestly bespeak for them a continuance of the liberal patronage extended to our old firm. Well satisfied of their business acquirements and skill as Druggists, I wish for them the same success which has attended the late partnership of Gilbert & Higbee. DR. S. GILBERT.
This combination forms the most complete Drug Emporium south of New York, where every facility will now be offered the purchaser of buying goods in our line at manufacturers' prices.
We cordially invite and direct the special attention of all persons to this establishment before making their purchases either in the East or West, as our object and aim shall be to provide a HOME MARKET, and to defy competition with all other cities.
Our Stock of Goods is Perfect and Complete at All Times.
Our experience in the trade of Memphis is such that we understand and know the wants of Druggists, Physicians, Merchants, Builders, Manufacturers, Planters and others.
We shall have in our employ none but the most experienced Clerks and assistants. All our arrangements will enable us to render perfect and complete satisfaction.
Thankful for the liberal and extensive patronage bestowed upon us heretofore by the citizens of Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas, and the territory west, we hope by constant attention to our own business to merit and receive an increasing continuance.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

From the Boston Pilot.]

GO, GENTLE ZEPHYR.

BY J. AUGUSTINE SIGNAIGO.

[Copy-right of Music Secured.]

Oh! gentle zephyr passing by,
Speed swiftly on your way,
And tell my lady-love that I
Think of her night and day;
Tell her when first her magic voice
Fell sweetly on my ear,
I knew she was the Heavenly choice
Of all the angels here.

Go, gentle zephyr, go with speed—
By all my hopes above.
Tell her in feeling, word and deed,
I do none other love;
Tell her she is the world to me,
The star I most prefer;
That paradise would lonely be
Unless 'twas shared with her.

Speed, gentle zephyr, on your way—
Oh! if you only knew
That you will kiss her cheek to-day,
And how I envy you!
But tell her she's my only theme,
The name by which I pray,—
The idol of my every dream,
The sunlight of my day.

French, English and American Perfumery, Soaps, Combs and Brushes, Pomades, Hair Oils, Feather Dusters, Fine Wines, Brandy and Whisky.

EVERY article usually kept by Druggists can be found here. My stock is all new and fresh, and such as I can guarantee. To the citizens of Memphis, Planters, Merchants, Physicians, and all who are in need of anything in my line, I would take this method of assuring them that their orders will be filled upon short notice and with such articles as can be relied upon. To those of my former patrons, who have dealt with me up to the time I was of necessity compelled to sell out, I would cordially ask a renewal of their acquaintance, assuring them that our past and former dealings is only a guarantee of what the future will be, promising always to do the best I can.

The PRESCRIPTION DEPARTMENT being one of the most important branches of the Apothecary business, and one that requires skill and experience, will receive my personal attention, and during my absence will be under the control of competent and careful Apothecaries, accessible at all hours day or night.

Soliciting an examination of stock and prices, I am, very respectfully, your humble servant,

USE GALLIGHAN'S PILLS FOR CHILLS & FEVER A CERTAIN CURE

GALLIGHAN'S PILLS are composed simply of Vegetable Medicines. They are Cathartic Pills, acting upon the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels; containing no Arsenic, Calomel, Blue Mass, or any other Mineral substance. The great advantage the Proprietors claim for these Pills is that, without the aid of Calomel, Blue Mass, or any other Minerals, they will cure the most obstinate cases of CHILLS AND FEVER, DUMB AGUE, PERIODICAL HEADACHE, NEURALGIA, and all affections of a like character. Follow the directions, and you will find they will do all that is claimed for them. Try one box, and their own merits will recommend them ever afterwards.

We have used Galligan's Pills, and have never known them to fail to cure when the directions were followed, and unhesitatingly recommend them to public favor.

NEW SOUTHERN MUSIC BOOK

Just Published:

TABOR;

OR, THE

Ricmond Collection of Sacred Music.

BY R. M. McINTOSH,

Of Virginia.

Essentially Southern in its main features, TABOR nevertheless contains a choice selection of the best Northern copy-right Music. Its author, for four years an officer of the Confederate army, composed many stirring pieces in moments snatched during its marchings and counter-marchings in Virginia. The dirge used at the funeral of Gen. T. J. Jackson (Sto. wall,) May 17, 1863, was from his pen, and is included in this collection.

"Mr. McIntosh," says the Richmond Whig, "is well known throughout the South as an author and teacher of finished excellence, with a musical reputation rarely attained by any man of his age in this country. In the South he stands at the very head of church music, no one disputing the position with him."

The book embraces everything of value of Southern or Southwestern origin, much of which is now for the first time reduced to a written form. Its variety is great—embracing all metres in use, in every key and every variety of measure—with a full elementary department and fine collection of new anthems, set pieces and sentences. It contains nearly 300 closely printed pages, neatly and tastefully gotten up, well printed and bound.

Price, $1 33, for which it will be sent, post free, to any part of the country.

Single copies, for examination and introduction, sent to any address, postage paid, on receipt of one dollar.
